

This Week's Climate Policy Update

March 19, 2024

Reading Time : 1 min

By: Kenneth J. Markowitz, Stacey H. Mitchell, Christopher A. Treanor, Leila Flemming (Senior Public Policy Specialist)

Energy Secretary Jennifer Granholm publicly announced that the Department of Energy (DOE) liquefied natural gas (LNG) pause will conclude within the next year. On the state level, 24 attorneys general are arguing against the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) new rule to limit methane emissions associated with the oil & gas industry. Finally, at a recent International Maritime Organization (IMO) meeting, 47 countries stood in support of monetary penalties related to the international shipping sector's greenhouse gas emissions.

To read Akin's most recent climate policy update, please click here.

Categories

- Asia
- Natural Resources
- Climate Change
- Sustainability
- Policy
- Regulatory
- North America
- Europe
- Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG)
- Energy & Infrastructure

© 2024 Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP. All rights reserved. Attorney advertising. This document is distributed for informational use only; it does not constitute legal advice and should not be used as such. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome. Akin is the practicing name of Akin Gump LLP, a New York limited liability partnership authorized and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority under number 267321. A list of the partners is available for inspection at Eighth Floor, Ten Bishops Square, London E1 6EG. For more information about Akin Gump LLP, Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP and other associated entities under which the Akin Gump network operates worldwide, please see our Legal Notices page.